

DYNAMITERS TO HEAR THEIR SENTENCES TO-DAY

Ryan and Other Officers of Iron Workers May Get Long Terms.

APPEAL TO HIGHER COURT

Evidence in Case Offered to States for Prosecution of Others.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The thirty-eight convicted dynamiters in the county jail passed a quiet day and at sundown were nearly all in bed. They are springing of the fall slapper.

During the day the monotony was broken by the appearance of the wives of several, but they were allowed to talk only to their husbands, and the men in adjoining cells caught only snatches of the conversations. The women began to call at 9 o'clock and were permitted to remain nearly an hour.

Deputy marshals were stationed at both ends of the corridors on the second floor, where the prisoners are, and last night six deputies stood on each in the corridor till midnight and then relieved by others, who had been on guard since the prisoners were incarcerated.

Herbert S. Hoeklin is believed to be the only man among the thirty-eight prisoners who was not addressed by any card in the day, or in fact since they were ordered to sit in solitary confinement. He is a quiet, unassuming man, and his name was not called by any of the other prisoners when they were taken from their cells this afternoon and conducted to the main corridor, where all the other inmates were assembled for religious services.

As they filed from their cells many of them looked dejected and careworn, and among these President Ryan was conspicuous for his listless movements and disinterested aspect.

The majority of the prisoners had been cleaned of their contents when they were gathered up, but three came back as they had been given out, while others showed that only a small portion had been eaten. Who had lost their appetites was unknown.

The attorneys for the defense have arranged their motions for presentation to court when it reconvenes at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. The first motion will be for a new trial and this if overruled, as expected, will be followed by a motion in arrest of judgment. It is expected that this too will be overruled and the prisoners will then be sentenced.

The defense will then appeal to the circuit court of appeals or to the United States Supreme Court, direct and will offer bond for each prisoner, pending the decision by the court of last resort. Whether the court will send the thirty-eight men to the Government prison at Fort Leavenworth or let them go on bond is a matter which will be decided by Judge Anderson. It is not believed, however, that he will release the prisoners to their homes, but will send them at once to enter upon their terms of imprisonment.

It is believed that Frank M. Ryan, president of the Iron Workers' Union, first vice-president, Herbert S. Hoeklin, secretary, Philip C. Jones, Frank J. Ryan, John J. Ryan, and John J. Ryan, all of New York, members of the "executive board" will get a long term. They were active as heads of the organization during the conspiracy and were connected directly with its financial affairs.

It is believed that Ryan, Hoeklin and Butler will get terms very nearly aggregating the maximum, thirty-nine and a half years. It is known that Judge Anderson has been going over the evidence for one day and that he followed it very closely when the witnesses were on the stand, so closely in fact that he was able at times to point out, wordily what this, that or the other witness had said and was sustained by the stenographic notes in every particular.

Not the jury was dismissed the court referred to the incident and said he had no doubt Butler had committed wilful perjury and declared there had been a great deal of perjury in this case.

Twelve is another who will no doubt get a long term. The evidence showed that he was the head and front of the labor agitation in California that culminated in the destruction of the Los Angeles Times building and the murder of twenty-one men, and that he hired the automobile and tipped the chauffeur in the sum of $25 for carrying Mrs. David Caplan out of the State when she was wanted as a witness in the McNamara case. The District Attorney charged Twelvetime directly with the Los Angeles murders in his argument before the jury. Twelvetime did not go on to the witness stand in his own behalf, nor did Frank Webb of New York.

The lawyers for the defense took numerous exceptions to rulings of the court during the trial and these will be made the basis of the appeal which will be taken after the sentences are imposed to-morrow. In addition to these there will be exceptions to the attitude of the court to certain witnesses, his remarks to Butler while he was on the stand and the jury was present being an instance.

Telegrams have been coming in all day to District Attorney Miller and Assistant District Attorney Noel congratulating them on the verdict and praising the conduct of the case. Among the telegrams is one from an Assistant Attorney-General at Washington, and THREATS TO STOTESBURYS.

Financier and Wife May Abandon Their Dinner Dances.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 29.—The series of handsome entertainments by Mrs. Edward P. Stotesbury may be brought to a sudden end as the result of many letters received by Mr. and Mrs. Stotesbury, some of them making threats against their lives if they do not cease spending small fortunes on balls and dinners.

Mrs. Stotesbury had planned six balls that would end anything ever attempted in Philadelphia. She has given two. After the first stories were published that the Stotesburys had spent $500,000 upon it. It was given at the Bellevue-Stratford.

As a matter of fact the ball did not cost more than $50,000. The second ball, given at the Ritz-Carlton, at which Mrs. Stotesbury received her guests in the hotel ballroom, did not cost nearly so much as the first.

Following the second ball Mrs. Stotesbury began to get threatening letters. Several of them were mailed in the mill section of Philadelphia.

While neither Mr. nor Mrs. Stotesbury will discuss the letters, it is known that friends of them were so violent that they advised that they be bodyguards. But Mrs. Stotesbury appealed to local editors to keep her name out of the society columns.

Last Thursday Mrs. Stotesbury gave a small party at her home for eight guests, but not a line regarding it was printed. Mrs. Stotesbury also takes exception to the manner in which she has been attacked from the press.

The Stotesburys were planning a trip to Bermuda in February. This may be postponed.

BISHOP TO TELL ABOUT DR. MORTIMER'S OUSTING

Preparing Statement—Rector Wanted to Change Name of Denomination.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 29.—Bishop Rhinelander today announced that he is preparing an official statement telling why he took summary action and demanding the resignation of the Rev. Dr. Alfred Garnett Mortimer of St. Mark's Episcopal Church. The bishop made up his mind to issue a statement after he was visited yesterday in New York by Suffragan Bishop Garland, Bishop Rhinelander was at the sickbed of his father-in-law.

He returned immediately to Philadelphia and last night held long conferences with George Wharton Pepper and other members of the vestry of St. Mark's. Mr. Pepper is said to have counseled against issuing any statement, notwithstanding the demand of Episcopal ministers that many scandalous rumors be set at rest.

The statement may be delayed until Dr. Mortimer is on the ocean. He is to sail for his old home in England, where he was ordained into the priesthood, this week.

The deposed clergyman was the leader of the High Church or Ritualist party of the Church and also leader in the movement to change the name of the Protestant Episcopal Church to the American Catholic Church. The change of name was to have come up at the convention to be held in New York next October.

The Rev. George Chalmers Richmond, rector of St. John's, said to-day:

"The case is a larger one than some people think, and if Bishop Rhinelander or Mr. Pepper think they can stop discussion and interest regarding the matter they are wholly mistaken. The downfall of Dr. Mortimer means that the Episcopal Church will not change its name."

SAY HUSBAND STABBED WIFE.

Police Declare Long Branch Man at First Blamed Burglar.

LONG BRANCH, Dec. 29.—Charged with having stabbed his wife yesterday in a quarrel at their home, Robert G. Allen of Vernon street was arrested to-day. Mrs. Allen is dying in the Monmouth Memorial Hospital.

The stabbing was a mystery for several hours. The police say Allen hinted that his wife had been attacked by a burglar. They say that he now admits that he injured his wife in a quarrel.

TREE CUTTER HALED TO COURT.

First Victim of New Forestry Ordinance at Morrisania, N. J.

MORRISANIA, N. J., Dec. 29.—Martin Farino of Speedwell avenue is the first victim of the ordinance passed by the Common Council last summer prohibiting citizens from cutting down shade trees without permission. Farino will get a hearing on Monday or Tuesday.

Town Forester Edward J. Bowen charged Farino with cutting down two maple trees without permission to save a newly laid cement sidewalk.

MEXICO NEARLY BANKRUPT.

Search Far and Wide for a Loan of $10,000,000.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 29.—Politicians and financiers close to the administration admit that the Government is hovering on the brink of bankruptcy and that it is struggling every day to raise $20,000,000 (one hundred million) dollars in sight in order to borrow the money.

The hurried visit of Minister Pedro Lacurain to New York recently was to importune Wall Street and seek a loan. He failed. Facing a desperate situation, President Madero is going to send Gustavo Madero, his brother and power behind the Mexican throne, as special financial agent abroad. Gustavo has been commissioned to visit Japan first and try for money there. He is to act as Ambassador to thank Japan for taking part in the Mexican centennial under Porfirio Diaz. Failing there, Gustavo is to continue to France and England, as the Mexican Government has abandoned all hope of getting another loan in the United States.

SEVEN IN ROBBER BAND AND TWO WOMEN CAUGHT

Arrests in Bronx Flats Solve Mystery of Numerous Burglaries.

BANK THEFT HEADED OFF

Safe Blowers Had Planned to Loot Italian Institution on New Year's Eve.

By the arrest in The Bronx yesterday of seven young men and two young women Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty not only solved the mystery of numerous safe robberies but forestalled a bank robbery which was planned for New Year's night.

The men prisoners, hardly one of whom is 24 years old, had been using in small stores the most modern of cracksmen's tools with such uninterrupted success that they were planning, Mr. Dougherty said, to extend the scale of their operations and to drill and blow bank safes and the strong boxes of big concerns.

The job that was planned for New Year's night was the robbery of Patrick Pennabich's Italian bank, jewelry store and steamship agency at Morris avenue and 148th street.

The two young women arrested say they had no knowledge of the burglaries, but one of them, Nettie Briggs, who is 24 years old and who came here from Wilkesbarre, is held as a material witness, and the other, Mrs. Josephine Pauls of Josephine Sachs, is locked up under a charge of abetting burglary.

It was in her apartment at 2552 Seventh avenue that four of the prisoners were taken and in which were found burglars' tools, dynamite and a quantity of paraffin.

Both girls told Commissioner Dougherty that they had met the young men only a few months ago and that they had never suspected they were going around with burglars. Mrs. Sachs was going to marry Henry Albert, one of the prisoners, next Sunday night, and the other was to be married to George Allen, another under arrest, in a few weeks.

The capture of the expert safe drillers came about through a skillful plan on the part of a young mounted policeman, C. J. Meyer. Like others on duty in The Bronx, Meyer had been told to arrest on suspicion any man who seemed to be taking too much interest in the entrances to butcher shops and cigar stores and other stores of the kind which have suffered heavily in the last two months from the work of a particularly shrewd gang.

At 2:45 o'clock last Saturday morning Meyer arrested a young man who was lurking near Fred Graber's saloon, 1485 Vesey avenue. The prisoner, whose name is George Allen, was carrying in his pocket the handle of a cog ratchet drill, a most effective and powerful device for boring a hole in the doors of safes. Questioned by Deputy Commissioner Dougherty and Inspector Faurot of the detective bureau, Allen admitted he knew who had been concerned in numerous burglaries in The Bronx, and agreed to lead the detectives to flats where the burglars congregated.

Yesterday morning, led by Allen, Capt. Sam Price and a dozen detectives went to 2552 Seventh avenue and arrested there Mrs. Josephine Pauls or Sachs, who is 20 years old and pretty; Henry Jones, 18 years old, of 123 Bryant avenue; Antonio Cagliano, 24 years old, of Elton avenue and East 159th street, and Louis Cappazzi, 22 years old, of 248 East 159th street. At the same time the detectives found there pawn tickets for diamond rings, a cog ratchet drill, five sticks of dynamite and the electrical apparatus, including dry batteries, fuses, and wires used for exploding dynamite and running the mechanism of locks after holes had been drilled in safe doors.

Directed also by Allen, the detectives arrested at 1654 Hall place, The Bronx, Henry Albert, 24 years of age, known to the police as "Dutch Henry," and Nettie Briggs, 20 years old. In one of Albert's pockets was a gold medal that had been taken from the lost safe of Teitelbaum's Grand Rapids Furniture Store at 444 Westchester avenue, along with $750 and another gold medal.

Shortly after Albert and Nettie Briggs were arrested the detectives captured Pasquale Fusco, who is known in the neighborhood of his saloon, the Spokano Cafe, at 310 East 148th street, as Patsy Klondike, and Ignazio Corneliusson, 20 years old, of 429 East 147th street.

Magistrate Krotel in the Morrisania court held the prisoners in $1,000 bail for examination on Tuesday. The only one of the nine who secured bail was Fusco, the saloon keeper.

Deputy Commissioner Dougherty said the girls denied they knew anything about the burglaries. "The men," he said, "admit they had a hand in the following robberies:

November 28—Jacob Fallenstein's store, 918 Intervale avenue, $2,500.

December 2—United States Company's store, 1535 Third avenue, $150.

December 12—United Clear Company's store, Freeman avenue and Jennings street, $125.

December 15—Long's hat store, 2793 Third avenue, $240.

December 16—Nickelette Amusement Palace, 763 Westchester avenue, empty safe.

December 16—M. Wolfson & Co., 2197 Tremont avenue, $250.

December 23—Teitelbaum's Grand Rapids Furniture Company, 444 Westchester avenue, $750 and two gold medals.

"I have reports of numerous other robberies which amount to over $5,000 in cash, besides valuable jewelry.

"The young man, we believe, who was the leader of the gang is Ross, a pupil of old Herman Schultz, alias Abraham Hamit, Schultz, who is serving a long sentence in Sing Sing, was a trailer of safe robbers, and from him young Ross learned how to operate a ratchet drill."

SPENT $780,000 ON HER TRIP.

Lucky Baldwin's Daughter Buys Yacht, Private Car and Autos.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—Mrs. Clara Baldwin Stocker, daughter of "Lucky" Baldwin, who inherited half of his twenty-two million dollar fortune, reached here about midnight in her new private car to spend New Year's.

She is just back from an Eastern shopping trip, during which she bought these things: Diamonds worth $250,000, $200,000 yacht, $20,000 worth of gold and silverware, $100,000 wardrobe, $20,000 worth of automobiles, $40,000 private railway car, $50,000 presents for her husband, $100,000 for Christmas and New Year's presents for her friends. Total, $780,000.

Mrs. Stocker came here in her private car, which she has just brought from the East. It has among other features an orchestral organ with pipes.

Mrs. Stocker frankly says she is out for a good time and that money is only good to spend. She takes childlike pleasure in all her new things, and especially in the private car, which she shows to all visitors.

TAFT REACHES KEY WEST IN DASH TO WASHINGTON

Col. Goethals's Presence Taken as Sign of Governmental Change in Zone.

KEY WEST, Dec. 29.—The battleships Arkansas and Delaware bearing President Taft and his party dropped anchor here to-day at 10:30. Riding from his sea trip and smiling at the welcome extended him, the President landed at the naval pier at 11:15.

The President's appearance backed up his statement that he had had a pleasant trip. He also expressed himself as pleased with the way the Panama Canal was being pushed to completion and said it was a wonderful work.

There was a heavy swell during most of the trip. The rescue of a coal passer on the Delaware who fell overboard at seven o'clock this morning was missed by every member of the party. When the man fell overboard the big battleship turned a complete circle, put off a boat, picked up the coal passer and resumed her course in less than fifteen minutes.

The President and his party had an unpleasant experience in boarding the Arkansas at Colon. The Presidential party was taken to the Arkansas, anchored just inside the breakwater, in a seagoing tug.

The wind was very strong. The party was forced to run across a gangway from the tug to the Arkansas while the boats were heaving four or five feet with every swell.

Just before landing to-day, the quartermasters of the Arkansas presented Mr. Taft with a President's flag, made on the ship, and flown at the naval review in New York and on the trip to the Canal Zone.

Col. Goethals accompanied the Presidential party from Colon and will go to Washington. His presence is regarded as an indication of intention to establish a provisional Government in the Canal Zone at an early date.

The Presidential party was driven to the railroad station, where the Key West Silk Company presented to the President a cake of ice. There were five pounds of mackerel in the ice.

The President is endeavoring to establish a speed record for the journey from Colon to Washington via Key West, for the purpose of seeing just how quickly the trip may be made.

He left on a special train at noon. His departure would have been somewhat earlier but for the lateness of the regular mail train and the arrival of a circus train which tangled up the yards and delayed the special.

MISS GOULD SEES MRS. SHEPARD.

Goes With Plance to Visit His Aged Mother.

NEW HAVEN, Dec. 29.—Finley J. Shepard and Miss Helen Gould came to this city this afternoon to visit the mother of Mr. Shepard, who has been a patient in the New Haven Hospital for several years. They remained at the hospital about two hours. Afterward they went to the old home of Mr. Shepard at Clinton, Conn., for a brief visit, returning this evening to this city. They plan to go back to New York to-morrow.

The visit had been planned for Christmas, but Mr. Shepard was too busy to make it.

Mrs. Shepard has been blind for several years. She is an accomplished musician, and is able to play the pipe organ with skill. Frequently, accompanied by one of the nurses, she goes to the chapel of the hospital and plays there on the organ.

Mrs. Shepard has reached her eighty-third year.

ACCUSED OF POISONING WIFE.

Widower and Sister-in-law Arrested in Hot Springs, Ark.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Dec. 29.—Charged with having administered poison that caused the death of his wife, Gus Haselman, 42 years of age, and Mrs. Ruby Rose, 16 years of age, sister of the dead woman and wife of Tom Rose, a former vaudeville actor, were arrested at Haselman's home to-day.

The warrant was issued on information from Mrs. Ella Ridgway, mother of Mrs. Haselman and Mrs. Rose. Mrs. Ridgway said that a short time before Mrs. Haselman's death her daughter told her Haselman had given her poison and that she was dying from the effects of the drug. Mrs. Ridgway said that her daughter did not want any investigation at that time, fearing that Haselman would kill them both, but implored her mother to investigate after she had died.

This the mother decided to do and her statement caused the arrest of Haselman and her younger daughter, Mrs. Rose, who was married ten days ago.

Haselman said his mother-in-law has "jobbed" him.

A preliminary hearing will be given to Haselman and Mrs. Rose to-morrow morning.

STOPPED FOUR RUNAWAYS.

Sergeant Atwater Dragged Two Blocks by Leaders.

Mounted Police Sergeant Alexander Atwater of the Liberty avenue station, East New York, jumped from a trolley car yesterday afternoon and threw himself in front of a team of four horses attached to a truck of the Borden Milk Company which were being driven through Liberty avenue near Georgia avenue. The avenue was crowded with children returning from Sunday school.

Sgt. Atwater, throwing himself at the heads of the leaders, grasped their bridles, and though the forelegs of the animals continually struck him and the heavy iron pole of the truck dug into him he held on for two blocks until he stopped the team against a wooden fence at the side of the road.

The sergeant was taken to the Bradford Street Hospital, where the physicians found that his head, limbs and body were covered with bruises and welts. His scalp had been laid open for several inches.

No New Year's dinner complete without a bottle of Angostura Bitters. Delicious appetizer.

PLANS ARE ALL MADE TO DEPORT GEN. CASTRO

Venezuelan Will Be Comfortable on Ellis Island While Wheels Move.

TWO LINES OF ATTACK

In Any Event Ex-Dictator Will Find Himself an "Undesirable Alien."

Everything is in readiness to make Gen. Cipriano Castro, ex-President and dictator of Venezuela, the guest of the Department of Commerce and Labor the moment La Touraine passes Quarantine late this afternoon or to-morrow morning. The proper immigration inspector has been told off to greet Senor Ruiz, as Castro is known aboard ship; a board is ready to pass on his case and the decision has already been reached to have the verdict reviewed and rereviewed until it goes to Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel for final action.

Gen. Castro will remain on board the French liner until she reaches her pier, and then he will be transferred to a barge or a boat which will take him to Ellis Island.

Although it will be slightly confining, Castro will have no complaint to make about the quarters he will occupy while stopping at the island. He is travelling first class on the ship, and he will occupy first class accommodations in the Government building.

It was said unofficially yesterday that he would move into the apartments recently occupied by Prince Pignatelli, who was held by mistake for an older and notorious relative who had been expelled from France.

Castro will have a comfortable bedroom, a sitting room, a private bath, and for exercise he will be allowed to promenade in the roof garden. He will be allowed counsel, who will be permitted to see him at any hour the island is open; he will be permitted to have visitors; the newspapers will be accessible to him.

It is thought that a special board of inquiry can be convened a day or so after he arrives and that his case can go to the Commissioner-General of Immigration next week. The duration of the proceedings will depend upon the kind of light Castro himself will want to put up. In this particular case, however, it is stated that the Secretary of Commerce and Labor will avail himself of the discretion the law allows him to pass upon the case, whether or not there is an appeal.

As nearly as can be learned the Government will proceed against Castro on two lines. First there will be an investigation as to whether his condition of health does not make it undesirable for him to land. The law mentions a number of ailments, not necessarily contagious, which will bar an alien, and cable dispatches have frequently hinted that Castro has been suffering for some years from one of these.

Another point will be an inquiry into the desirability of his presence in this country. That may give the Venezuelan Government an opportunity to make representations concerning his character which the Secretary may take into consideration. There are a number of gentlemen in this city to-day who would give testimony cheerfully about his character. Among them is Gen. Hernandez, who was a revolutionist with price on his head as long as Castro was supreme in the republic. The Consul-General, the Venezuelan Minister and others all know him.

All declared yesterday, however, that they have not yet made any request of the Government nor have they heard from the President. Juan Vicente Gomez, once Castro's chief aid, but now his bitter enemy, that he desires any one to make a move. It is admitted, however, that if Castro would like to go to Venezuela they will let him come ashore at La Guayra, where there will be a warm welcome.

GHOULS RIFLE COUNT'S TOMB.

Search for Ducal Crown in Vienna Mausoleum Fails.

VIENNA, Dec. 29.—Ghouls to-day rifled the tomb of Count and Countess Riedey-Grosardner, who were probably tempted by the tradition that a very valuable ducal crown and family jewels were buried with the bodies of the Count and Countess. The ghouls found nothing except human remains, which they scattered on the floor of the mausoleum.

There is no clue to the vandals, Count Riedey died in 1831.

GIRL CAME FROM JAPAN TO WED.

Romance Grew Out of School Friendship in New Jersey.

CRAWFORD, N. J., Dec. 29.—Miss Eugenie C. Booth, who was married here last night to Harry Campbell of Washington, D. C., made a trip from Japan to cap the climax of a romance that began six years ago when the bride and bridegroom were fellow students at Blair Academy, in this State.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. Eugene S. Booth, a missionary at Yokohama, and she was born in Japan. She went back to the country after finishing her studies here, but the friendship begun at school was continued by correspondence.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's uncle, Wallace G. Hawley, in Springfield avenue, and was performed by the Rev. Dr. G. F. Green, pastor of the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Campbell will live in Washington.

BROWNING READ TO MUSIC.

Yale Professor Gives "Abt Vogler" With Piano Accompaniment.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 29.—Prof. William Lyon Phelps of Yale's English department, who has been lecturing to jammed classrooms on Browning, introduced a novelty recently that Yale men are still talking about.

David Stanley Smith, a young composer, played on a piano that was wheeled upon the lecture platform while Prof. Phelps read "Abt Vogler." Mr. Smith extemporized on the piano much as the subject of that poem might have done. A delighted audience heard the "C major" of this life, the "singing by semitones" and all the variations and chords that the old master might have played.

DUKEDOMS FOR TWO PRINCES.

Rumors Regarding King George's New Year's Honors.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The Daily Express reproduces the rumors that the King shortly will confer dukedoms on Prince Arthur of Connaught and Prince Alexander of Teck.

MARY GARDEN GOES ON STRIKE.

Won't Sing "Tosca" Without Marcoux, Who Shocked Boston.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Following vigorous protests by Mme. Carolina White-Eleanora de Cisneros and Maggie Teyte that they are being overworked Director Andreas Dippel of the Chicago Grand Opera Company got an ultimatum from Mary Garden to-night.

Miss Garden says she will not sing Tosca on January 3 unless Vanni Marcoux sings with her. Marcoux sang Scarpia with her in this opera in Boston and the next day Mayor Fitzgerald threatened to revoke the theatre license if Marcoux didn't abate the liveliness of his wooing scene.

Dippel wants Sammarco to sing Scarpia and is not inclined to yield to Miss Garden's "Tosca" may, therefore, not be sung here at all. "Die Walkure" is now announced for January 3.

TAFT TO GET AUNT'S PORTRAIT.

Likeness of Mrs. Della Torrey for New Year's Gift.

BOSTON, Dec. 29.—President Taft will receive as a New Year's gift a portrait of his "Aunt Della" Torrey of Millbury, Mass. The painting is in oil, the work of Miss Emily B. Waite of Boston.

The donors are with-held so far, but are understood to be several Boston society women.

Miss Waite recently returned from Europe, where she went after she won the James William Paige scholarship of $800 at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

THEIR JULY 4 NEW YEAR'S EVE.

Alaskans Have Fireworks Now Because It Gets Dark Enough.

FARIBANKS, Alaska, Dec. 29.—Fairbanks and central Alaska will hold their Fourth of July and New Year's eve celebrations together Tuesday night with elaborate fireworks brought by the last steamer before navigation closed.

Summer twilight makes July fireworks displays impossible in this latitude, so fireworks were substituted for last July, to be set off New Year's eve. Thousands of miners are coming to see the show. Bonfires on top of the snow will keep the multitude warm.

CENSURE BERLIN NIGHT LIFE.

German Women's Proclamation Says It Saps Vitality of Youth.

SPECIAL CABLE DISPATCH TO THE SUN.
BERLIN, Dec. 29.—The newspaper Freie Presse prints an appeal from German women to German women asking them to do their utmost to oppose the growing craze for night life at the capital, which, it is asserted, is sapping the vitality of the young women and annihilating the marital virtues.

The proclamation says: "We women are Germany's nerves, the men are her muscles. We have the power to lend the muscles the strength necessary to maintain Germany's position in the world and the realization of her legitimate ambitions."

POLICE ON TRAIL OF HOLDUPS.

Arrest Expected of Gang That Robbed Silk Paymasters.

The arrest of a band of Harlem Italians for the robbery of two paymasters of the Silk Finishing Company of America on December 21 last in Greenwich Village is hourly expected by Commissioner Dougherty, who has had a special squad of detectives working on the case since. The two paymasters, Charles Weber and Edmund Wyder, the latter a son of the owner of the mills, which are at 33 to 35 Bethune street, were slugged by four highwaymen who escaped in a touring car. They got $1,194 in cash.

The detectives have traced the affair to a former employee of the silk mills who was discharged three weeks previous to the holdup.

70,000 MORE WILL STRIKE FOR PEACE

Ladies' Garment Workers Union Wants Protocol Plan Extended.

TOTAL OUT IS 200,000

New Campaign Is in Dress and White Goods Industries.

For more than two years the cloak, suit and skirt industry in this city has not been disturbed by strikes and labor troubles because a "protocol" or peace agreement, has existed between the Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers Protective Association, composed of about two hundred firms, and the Joint Board of Cloak and Skirt Makers Union, which has 59,000 members.

Business men and conservative labor leaders called attention to this yesterday in connection with the strike of 125,000 garment workers which has been ordered. In addition, it was learned, the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union has decided to call out more than 70,000 workers in the dress and waist, kimono and wrapper and white goods trades within ten days, which will make, altogether, about 200,000 idle men and women in the "needle" industries, unless the strikes are settled.

But there will be no walkouts in the cloak, suit and skirt trade, where the manufacturer and the employee say that the peace agreement is working most satisfactorily.
